CHALLENGES

- DepCor continues to struggle with an overcrowded, old dilapidated facility.
- A critical shortage of Corrections Officers
- Several escapes throughout the year.
- Several officers tested positive for drug use.

OUTLOOK

Moving forward, one positive step at a time:

- DepCor held several job fairs to recruit more Corrections Officers.
- 25 inmates participate in a construction certification program funded by the Guam Economic Development Authority in collaboration with the Guam Trades Academy.
- Robert D. Camacho assumes command of DepCor after Joseph S. Carbullido returns to GPD.
- Plan to recruit sixty Corrections Officers.
- Inmate family visitation resumes after a two-year suspension due to COVID-19.
- The Attorney General looks at deportation as a way of freeing up space in the prison.
- Governor signs Bill 153-36, “The Department of Corrections Modernization Act of 2021.”
